Flinders Hotel

The hotel + surrounds

Located on Westernport Bay near the south western tip of the Mornington Peninsula, the village of Flinders was named after the intrepid explorer, Matthew Flinders. Matthew with fellow explorer, ship's surgeon and botanist George Bass, sailed from Sydney in 1798 to prove that ocean divided mainland Australia and Tasmania. Bass Strait was then named in honour of George.

Flinders is located on the beautiful Mornington Peninsula, surrounded on two sides by spectacular coastlines; the hinterland countryside and farmlands sweep down to the village edge.

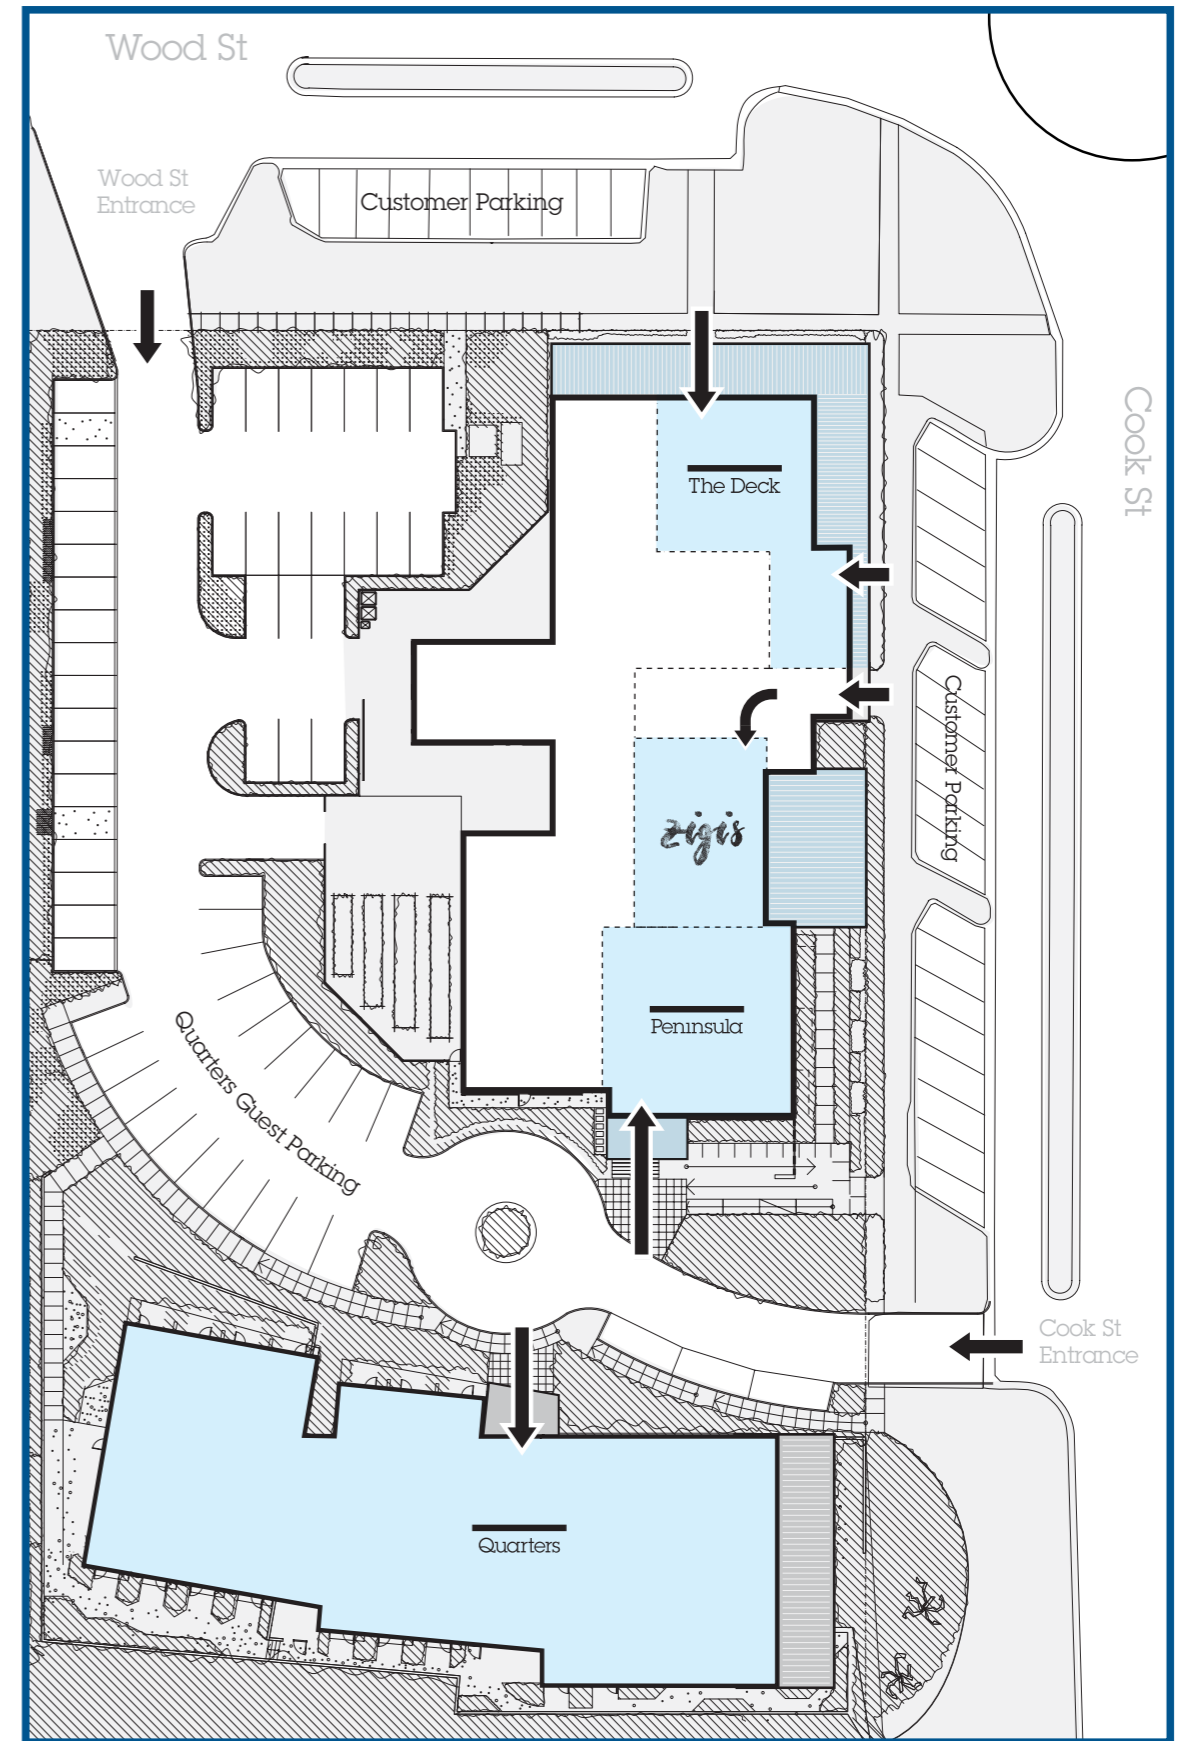

Endless adventures await just a short drive up the hill:

- Horse riding around wineries or national parks;
- Flinders Golf Club right next door (Victoria's oldest) - and a badly hit ball may sail straight into the ocean below;
- Vineyards and cellar doors;
- Farm-gates & produce stores;
- Grand gardens & mazes;
- Art galleries, antique barns & markets.

Flinders is only a short drive cross country to reach the Port Phillip Bay coastline and attractions such as natural hot springs. Flinders is an easy 75 minute drive from Melbourne, on Eastlink and Peninsula Link.
